Pertinent Comment

Split even with Danville, which is not at all bad, considering—well, con-sidering several things.

Dobson is ready for work. Since he really came to town he has not lest any time getting into condition. Pitcher Rapp is also with us. He is a big hoy, but further, than, that the deponent sayeth not.

He has worked in every game of the season, and that is a little too much for a catcher. Then he has been sent from first behind the bat and back again, which does not help a catcher any.

Petty animosities existing between some individuals and other individuals have no place in this column. Until something more substantial than the insane vaporings of copyists is presented, confidence in the present president of the league will continue. That's all.

There are thousands of lovers of baseball in Richmond who do not care a picayume who owns any club so long as good baseball results, and these same thousands would welcome any move which would give Richmond higher class baseball what's the use beating about the bush? If there is any intention of giving higher class baseball there is no reason to make it a secret. Let the public in on the deal, The public it is a great deal more interested in that than in the ownership of clubs.

GIANTS IN FIRST PLACE

New York, May 24.—The Giants assumed first place in the National classy to defeating Clucinati, while the Cardinals were vanquishing Philadelphia. Marquard pitched a splendid game for the locals, not allowing a hit after the first inning. Score:

Likewise the public is interested in whether the Virginia League will last as an organization or whether it is going to split on the rock of dissentions, now growing up in the ranks. In fairness to the local management, it should be stated that the owner of the Richmond club was willing to pay more for players. The local management was voted down. Now, then, if the local management has something up its sleeve, as is intimated by those who are in closer touch with the local management than the writer, let those in closer touch come out and say what is what. The public will listen, and with a great, deal more eagerness than the empty words of nothingness about who owns this or that club.

Moore Pitches Eight Innings, and Is Hit Safely Only

The Red Socks are back to-day for a series of games. It looks as it the series should remain in Richmond.

The track meet at Broad Street Park showed conclusively that some good track athletes will be turned out of Richmond in a few years. Harlow was casily the pick of the bunch, with Anderson, Coleman, Wallerstein and Mercer showing up well.

Young Satterfield in the series of the series of the series should remain and Mercer showing up well.

Young Satterfield in the series of them. The series is to day's game to St. Louis, 4 to 3, Philadelphia was defeated for the sixth consecutive time. Moore pitched eight innings, and was hit sately in only one of them, the third, when four singles, a base on balls and two errors gave St. Louis four runs. Golden was very effective with men on bases. Score:

Greer, Catholic Bulversity Pitcher, Will Play in Virginia. Washington, May 24.—Johnny Greer, who has been playing on the local amateur lots for the last three or four amateur lots for the last three or four years, leaves to-night for the Tidewater League, where he will play with the Norfolk club. The Norfolk management has been after Greer for some time, but it was only yesterday that he consented to join the professional ranks, and sent his contract to the manager of the Norfolk team.

Greer has been playing with the Catholic University team for the past two years, and has done good work. Last summer he played with the Betterton nine, an independent club, down on the eastern shore of Maryland, and his work in the box was the feature of almost every game played.
